presents the results of the committee's scientific and technical assessment which will assist the Office of the Secretary of Defense in selecting the technology package for destroying the chemical munitions at Pueblo. The committee evaluated the engineering design packages proposed by the technology providers and the associated experimental studies that were performed to validate unproven unit operations. A significant part of the testing program involved expanding the technology base for the hydrolysis of energetic materials associated with assembled weapons. This process was a concern expressed by the Committee on Review and Evaluation of Alternative Technologies for Demilitarization of Assembled Chemical Weapons (ACW I Committee) in its original report in 1999 (NRC 1999). The present study took place as the experimental studies were in progress. In some cases, tests for some of the supporting unit operations were not completed in time for the committee to incorporate results into its evaluation. In those cases, the committee identified and discussed potential problem areas in these operations. Based on its expertise and its aggressive data gathering activities, the committee was able to conduct a comprehensive review of the test data that had been completed for the overall system design. This report summarizes the study.

Geometry of Design (Kimberly Elam, 2001) This work takes a close look at a broad range of 20th century examples of design architecture and illustration, revealing underlying geometric structures in their compositions.

Design Pedagogy (Mr Mike Tovey, 2015-02-28) Design Pedagogy explains why it is vital that design students' education helps them construct a passport to enter the professional sphere. This collection explores how design education is in itself a passport to practice and showcase how some of the key developments in education use techniques related to collaboration, case studies, and experience to motivate students, enable them to express their identity, reflect, and learn.

Designing Knowledge (Bonne Zabolotney, 2024-01-11) By positioning designers and their practices at the center of design studies, Designing Knowledge merges theory and practice to highlight how knowledge creation can contribute to an expanded and more inclusive design practice. Bringing together a rich variety of perspectives, methods, and approaches, and by exploring and critiquing current issues in design studies, this book encourages designers to reflect on their work in a new light. Design studies practice is a material and tangible focus on knowledge production and mobilization in the field of design. Throughout 15 chapters, featuring a wide range of case studies, design practitioners and theorists address how they produce and mobilize knowledge about design through their practice. Chapters explore how to dismantle the colonial structures of modernist design and depart from the privileged spaces of art historical concepts in design history. They address tensions between traditional Indigenous design and contemporary design practice, discuss how to authentically integrate personhood into practice, and explore topics such as designing wellbeing, developing communities of care, informed accountability, and principles of the ecocene. They also analyse languages and typographic representations and investigate the nature of the graphic and typographic translation of literary texts, focusing on the writing of Argentinian writer Jorge Luis Borges as a case study. This book elevates the voices of designers and their work and offers insights to professional designers as well as students on how to use these contributions when working on future projects By highlighting the awareness of designers throughout their practice this book will inspire others to reflect on their work and share their own knowledge for the benefit of the field of design

Adherence to Pediatric Medical Regimens Michael A. Rapoff, 2010 It used to be called noncompliance and the patients themselves referred to as difficult But regardless of the terminology children s reluctance or failure to commit to prescribed regimens reduces the effectiveness of treatment often leading to additional care higher costs and serious even deadly complications Reflecting a single authoritative voice the Second Edition of Adherence to Pediatric Medical Regimens analyzes in comprehensive clinical detail the factors that affect children s and teens commitment to treatment from developmental issues to the influence of parents peers and others in their orbit and offers empirically sound guidelines for encouraging adherence It cautions against viewing young clients as miniature grownups or scaling down adult data advocating instead for a more nuanced understanding of the population and a collaborative relationship between practitioner and client Critical areas of interest to clinicians and researchers in pediatrics are brought into clear focus as the book Provides an overview of adherence rates to chronic and acute disease regimens and examines common adherence problems in children and adolescents Details consequences of nonadherence and correlates of adherence Critiques major adherence theories and their clinical implications Discusses the range of adherence assessment measures Reviews educational behavioral and other strategies for improving adherence Offers ways to translate research into pediatric medical adherence This updated edition of Adherence to Pediatric Medical Regimens is an essential reference for anyone concerned with improving health outcomes in young people especially clinicians researchers and graduate students in psychiatry as well as pediatric clinical child and health psychology Studio Downie Architecture Studio Downie Architects,2006 This new NeoArchitecture monograph presents the work of Studio Downie a young practice whose work to date has mostly appeared in the UK but is poised to make its mark on the world scene Craig Downie studied architecture within the layered environment Designerly Ways of Knowing Nigel Cross,2006-06-29 A revised and edited collection of key parts of Professor Cross s published work this book offers a timeline of scholarship and research over the course of 25 years and a resource for understanding how designers think and work Coverage includes the nature and nurture of design ability creative cognition in design the natural intelligence of design design discipline versus design science and expertise in design
