

Guided-Inquiry Design and Procedure

Form a working group with other students and discuss the following questions.

- Review the calorimetry procedure.
 - What data is needed to calculate the enthalpy change for a reaction?
 - Identify the variables that will influence the experimental data.
 - What variables should be controlled (kept constant) during the procedure?
 - The independent variable in an experiment is the variable that is changed by the experimenter, while the dependent variable responds to or depends on the changes in the independent variable. Name the independent and dependent variables in a calorimetry experiment to determine the molar heat of solution.
 - Discuss the factors that will affect the precision of the experimental results.
- One pair of students in the group should study the three solids in Set A, while the other pair studies Set B.
- Working collaboratively with the general procedure provided in the Introductory Activity, design and carry out experiments to determine the heat of solution for each solid. Be sure to review all safety precautions with your instructor before starting.
- Extrapolating from the information collected, predict which solid(s) could be used in an effective hand warmer meeting the following requirements:
 - The hand warmer must contain 10 g of an ionic solid and an inner pouch filled with 40 mL of water.
 - Activating the hand warmer must increase the temperature of the resulting solution by at least 20 °C.
 - The solid should be nontoxic, safe for the environment, and economical.
- Review the cost information shown below and consult the MSDS for each potential hand warmer. Propose the optimum design for the most cost-effective hand warmer that is nontoxic and least harmful to the environment.

Instant cold packs are used to treat sports and other injuries when ice is unavailable. Research the properties of commercial cold packs and select a "cold pack solid" from among the solids provided in this activity. Propose and test a design (quantity of solid and volume of water) for an effective instant cold pack.

Designing A Hand Warmer Guided Inquiry Answers:

Farmers' Guide ,1898 Reforming Teaching and Teacher Education Eija Kimonen,Raimo Nevalainen,2017-03-21
What are the prerequisites for reforming education and how can these reforms be seen in school development and culture
How should teacher education support this reform process What are the principles and practices underlying the functioning of the schools of tomorrow These questions are examined in this unique volume The authors in this book argue that the central function of teacher education and education in general is to respond to the challenges brought on by the twenty first century According to this approach the competencies and skills needed in the future are not merely a new addition to school activities but rather something requiring a comprehensive reform of school culture encompassing teacher education curricula and teaching methods Such a fundamental process of change in the action and thinking models used by schools would be an effort to achieve a complete transformation the result of which would be schools developing into organizations that are both creative and imbued with a strong sense of community A central attribute is that the creation of new knowledge is not just restricted to the classroom but also takes place in out of school environments This would link learning to its natural context eventually leading to an ideal instruction that is actively problem oriented holistic and life centered This reform minded volume is divided into three parts The first part focuses on the reform processes in teacher education the second on the reforms of pedagogics at schools and teacher education institutions and the third on the processes of reculturing schools New prospects for active schools in the United States and Europe as well as in Japan and China are
