Erdas Imagine Field Guide:

ERDAS Field Guide, 1999 ERDAS Imagine Field Guide, 1991 Image Processing and Data Analysis with ERDAS IMAGINE® Stacy A.C. Nelson, Siamak Khorram, 2018-10-03 Remotely sensed data in the form of digital images captured from spaceborne and airborne platforms provide a rich analytical and observational source of information about the current status as well as changes occurring in on and around the Earth's surface. The data products or simply images processed from these platforms provide an additional advantage in that geographic areas or regions of interest can be revisited on a regular cycle. This revisit cycle allows geospatial analysts and natural resource managers to explore changing conditions over time. Image Processing and Data Analysis with ERDAS IMAGINE explains the principles behind the processing of remotely sensed data in a simple, easy-to-understand and how to format. Organized as a step-by-step guide with exercises adapted from original research and using publicly available imagery such as NASA Landsat, ESA Sentinel 2 Orthophotos and others, this book gives readers the ability to quickly gain the practical experience needed to navigate the ERDAS IMAGINE software as well as learn certain applications in Esri's ArcMap, ArcGIS for Desktop software and Quantum GIS, the GIS QGIS open source applications package. It also helps readers to easily move beyond the information presented in this book and tackle more advanced skills. Written by two professors with long experience in remote sensing and image processing, this book is a useful guide and reference for both undergraduate and graduate students, researchers, instructors, managers and agency professionals who are involved in the study of Earth systems and the environment. Manual of Geospatial Science and Technology John D. Bossler, John R. Jensen, Robert B. McMaster, Chris Rizos, 2001-11-22 Manual of Geospatial Science and Technology shows how to work across the range of geospatial science and technology whether as a user or as a contractor of services employing these technologies and without either specialist education or substantial experience. The manual covers the fundamentals providing the requisite mathematics, computer science and physics necessary to understand how the technologies work assuming some elementary background in calculus and physics. It also shows how the technologies can be used together and focuses on their commonalities. A number of applications such as mapping and environmental modeling are presented and a Web site accompanies the book. Field Guide ERDAS (Firm), CHEST (Organization), University of Manchester. Computing Centre, 1994 Manual of Geospatial Science and Technology John D. Bossler, James B. Campbell, Robert B. McMaster, Chris Rizos, 2010-03-05 Following in the tradition of its popular predecessor, the Manual of Geospatial Science and Technology Second Edition continues to be the authoritative volume that covers all aspects of the field, both basic and applied, and includes a focus on initiating planning and managing GIS projects. This comprehensive resource which contains contributions ERDAS IMAGINE version 8.3 Stacey Schrader, Russ Pouncey, ERDAS (Firm), 1997 A Research Guide to Cartographic Resources Eva H. Dodsworth, 2018-09-22 The interdisciplinary uses of traditional cartographic resources and modern GIS tools allow for the analysis and discovery of information across a wide spectrum of fields A Research Guide to Cartographic Resources navigates the numerous American and Canadian cartographic resources available in print and online offering researchers academics and students with information on how to locate and access the large variety of resources new and old Dozens of different cartographic materials are highlighted and summarized along with lists of map libraries and geospatial centers and related professional associations A Research Guide to Cartographic Resources consists of 18 chapters two appendices and a detailed index that includes place names and libraries structured in a manner consistent with most reference guides including cartographic categories such as atlases dictionaries gazetteers handbooks maps plans GIS data and other related material Almost all of the resources listed in this guide are categorized by geography down to the county level making efficient work of the type of material required to meet the information needs of those interested in researching place specific cartographic related resources Additionally this guide will help those interested in not only developing a comprehensive collection in these subject areas but get an understanding of what materials are being collected and housed in specific map libraries geospatial centers and their related websites Of particular value are the sections that offer directories of cartographic and GIS libraries as well as comprehensive lists of geospatial datasets down to the county level This volume combines the traditional and historical collections of cartography with the modern applications of GIS based maps and geospatial datasets

Map Librarianship Susan Elizabeth Ward Aber, Jeremy Aber, 2016-11-04 Map Librarianship identifies basic geoliteracy concepts and enhances reference and instruction skills by providing details on finding downloading delivering and assessing maps remotely sensed imagery and other geospatial resources and services primarily from trusted government sources By offering descriptions of traditional maps geographic information systems GIS remote sensing and other geospatial technologies the book provides a timely and practical guide for the map and geospatial librarian to blend confidence in traditional library skill sets Includes rarely discussed concepts of citing and referencing maps and geospatial data fair use and copyright Creates an awareness and appreciation of existing print map collections while building digital stewardship with surrogate map and aerial imagery collections Provides an introduction to the theory and applications of GIS remote sensing participatory neogeography and neocartography practices and other geospatial technologies Includes a list of geospatial resources with descriptions and illustrations of commonly used map types and formats online geospatial data sources and an introduction to the most commonly used geospatial software packages available on both desktop and mobile platforms

Hydrologic Modeling Vijay P Singh, Shalini Yadav, Ram Narayan Yadava, 2018-01-19 This book contains seven parts The first part deals with some aspects of rainfall analysis including rainfall probability distribution local rainfall interception and analysis for reservoir release Part 2 is on evapotranspiration and discusses development of neural network models errors and sensitivity Part 3 focuses on various aspects of urban runoff including hydrologic impacts storm water management and drainage systems Part 4 deals with soil erosion and sediment covering mineralogical composition geostatistical analysis land use impacts and land use mapping Part 5 treats remote sensing and geographic information system GIS applications to different hydrologic problems Watershed runoff and floods are discussed in Part 6 encompassing hydraulic experimental and theoretical aspects Water modeling constitutes the concluding Part 7 Soil and Water Assessment Tool SWAT Xinanjiang and Soil Conservation Service Curve Number SCS CN models are discussed The book is of interest to researchers and practitioners in the field of water resources hydrology environmental resources agricultural engineering watershed management earth sciences as well as those engaged in natural resources planning and management Graduate students and those wishing to conduct further research in water and environment and their development and management find the book to be of value

Research Design and Proposal Writing in Spatial Science Jay D. Gatrell, Gregory D. Bierly, Ryan R. Jensen, 2011-11-25 The complex interactions between human and physical systems confronting social scientists and policymakers pose unique conceptual methodological and practical complications when doing research Graduate students in a broad range of related fields need to learn how to tackle the discipline specific issues of space place and scale as they propose and perform research in the spatial sciences This practical textbook and overview blends plenty of concrete examples of spatial research and case studies to familiarize readers with the research process as it demystifies and exemplifies how to really do it The appendix contains both completed and in progress proposals for MA and PhD theses and dissertations Emphasizing research as a learning and experiential process while providing students with the encouragement and skills needed for success in proposal writing Research Design and Proposal Writing in Spatial Science can serve as a textbook for graduate level research design courses as well as for undergraduate level project based spatial science courses Keywords proposal writing grant writing research geography spatial science

GIS and Geocomputation for Water Resource Science and Engineering Barnali Dixon, Venkatesh Uddameri, 2015-11-30 GIS and Geocomputation for Water Resource Science and Engineering not only provides a comprehensive introduction to the fundamentals of geographic information systems but also demonstrates how GIS and mathematical models can be integrated to develop spatial decision support systems to support water resources planning management and engineering The book uses a hands on active learning approach to introduce fundamental concepts and numerous case studies are provided to reinforce learning and demonstrate practical aspects The benefits and challenges of using GIS in environmental and water resources fields are clearly tackled in this book demonstrating how these technologies can be used to harness increasingly available digital data to develop spatially oriented sustainable solutions In addition to providing a strong grounding on fundamentals the book also demonstrates how GIS can be combined with traditional physics based and statistical models as well as information theoretic tools like neural networks and fuzzy set theory

Remote Sensing in Archaeology James R. Wiseman, Farouk El-Baz, 2007-04-03 Archaeology has been transformed by technology that allows one to see below the surface of the earth This work illustrates the uses of advanced technology in archaeological investigation It deals with hand held instruments that probe the subsurface of the earth to unveil layering and associated sites underwater exploration and photography of submerged sites and artifacts and the utilization of imaging from aircraft and spacecraft to reveal the regional setting of archaeological sites and to assist in cultural resource management

Encyclopedia of Information Science and Technology, Third Edition Khosrow-Pour, D.B.A., Mehdi, 2014-07-31 This 10 volume compilation of authoritative research based articles contributed by thousands of researchers and experts from all over the world emphasized modern issues and the presentation of potential opportunities prospective solutions and future directions in the field of information science and technology Provided by publisher

Sustainable Management of Headwater Resources Libor Jansky, Martin J. Haigh, Haushila Prasad, 2005 Headwaters are the source of freshwater resources the margins of drainage basins and the first and zero order basins that surround every catchment The challenge is to define appropriate self sustainable management strategies and structures for these lands which meet the needs of the headwater habitat including its human inhabitants and the needs of habitats downstream The contributors to this book strive to anticipate emerging and future problems to discover integrated solutions to the problems already caused by land degradation natural hazards and development processes and to help develop better land management environmental protection and landscape regeneration practices and policies They also address the many challenges that remain the concern for effective sharing of local experience in science and technology community participation the role of education effectiveness and limits of current technology the selection of appropriate policies and goals modes of effective management and the sustainability of current activities Sustainable Management of Headwater Resources provides an understanding of current and prior situations and provides scientific analyses of local and regional headwater issues in India and Africa The authors analyse the current situation through field experiments that provide reliable information on the status of headwater resources in these regions This book originates from the conference on Sustainable Management of Headwater Resources at the 5th International Conference on Headwaters in Nairobi Kenya

Remote Sensing Handbook for Tropical Coastal Management Edmund Peter Green, 2000 The Handbook provides a detailed evaluation of what can realistically be achieved by remote sensing in an operational coastal management context It takes the user through the planning and implementation of remote sensing projects from the setting of realistic objectives deciding which imagery will be most appropriate to achieve those objectives the acquisition geometric and radiometric correction of imagery the field survey methods needed to ground truth the imagery and guide image classification the image processing techniques required to optimise outputs through the image interpretation and evaluation of the accuracy of outputs Linked to the Handbook is a computer based remote sensing distance learning module Applications of satellite and airborne image data to coastal management available free of charge via www.unesco-bilko.org

An assessment of crop water productivity in the Indus and Ganges River Basins: current status and scope for improvement Cai, Xueliang, Sharma, Bharat R., Matin, Mir Abdul, Sharma, D., Gunasinghe, Sarath, 2010 The Indus and Ganges River Basin being the most populous in the world is under extreme pressure to sustain food security Production resources including water are being exploited to various levels from underdevelopment to heavy overexploitation This report provides a bird s eye view of the basin and focuses on the nexus between agricultural production and water consumption making it possible to pinpoint the areas with high low water productivity and identify the factors behind this which helps to promote informed decision making in light of environmental sustainability Progress in Geospatial Analysis Yuji Murayama,2012-07-06 This book examines current trends and developments in the methods and applications of geospatial analysis and highlights future development prospects It provides a comprehensive discussion of remote sensing and geographical information system GIS based data processing techniques current practices theories models and applications of geospatial analysis Data acquisition and processing techniques such as remote sensing image selections classifications accuracy assessments models of GIS data and spatial modeling processes are the focus of the first part of the book In the second part theories and methods related to fuzzy sets spatial weights and prominence geographically weighted regression weight of evidence Markov cellular automata artificial neural network agent based simulation multi criteria evaluation analytic hierarchy process and a GIS network model are included Part three presents selected best practices in geospatial analysis The chapters all by expert authors are arranged so that readers who are new to the field will gain an overview and important insights Those readers who are already practitioners will gain from the advanced and updated materials and state of the art developments in geospatial analysis Remote Sensing of Glaciers Petri Pellikka,W. Gareth Rees,2009-12-16 Glaciers and ice sheets have been melting significantly during recent decades posing environmental threats at local regional and global scales Changes in glaciers are one of the clearest indicators of alterations in regional climate since they are governed by changes in accumulation from snowfall and ablation by melting of ice Glacier chan Forests and Landscapes Stephen Richard John Sheppard,Howard W. Harshaw,2001-01-01 Forests are an important component in the visual appeal of landscapes There is an increasing recognition of the importance of this subject among foresters and environmental scientists Increasingly forest resource managers must consider the aesthetic consequences of timber harvesting operations and management plans This book is the first to address this subject area It consists of 15 chapters and is divided into four parts It brings together not only foresters and ecologists but also landscape architects psychologists and philosophers It should therefore attract a wide readership Contributors are leading research workers in their subjects from Canada the USA and UK
