Porcelain Analysis and Its Role in the Forensic Attribution of Ceramic Specimens Howell G. M.

Edwards,2021-11-09 The material for this book arose from the author's research into porcelains over many years as a collector in appreciation of their artistic beauty as an analytical chemist in the scientific interrogation of their body paste enamel pigments and glaze compositions and as a ceramic historian in the assessment of their manufactory foundations and their correlation with available documentation relating to their recipes and formulations A discussion of the role of analysis in the framework of a holistic assessment of artworks and specifically the composition of porcelain namely hard paste soft paste phosphatic bone china and magnesian is followed by its growth from its beginnings in China to its importation into Europe in the 16th Century A survey of European porcelain manufactories in the 17th and 18th Centuries is followed by a description of the raw materials minerals and recipes for porcelain manufacture and details of the chemistry of the high temperature firing processes involved therein The historical backgrounds to several important European factories are considered highlighting the imperfections in the written record that have been perpetuated through the ages The analytical chemical information derived from the interrogation of specimens from fragments shards or perfect finished items is reviewed and operational protocols established for the identification of a factory output from the data presented Several case studies are examined in detail across several porcelain manufactories to indicate the role adopted by modern analytical science with information provided at the quantitative elemental oxide and qualitative molecular spectroscopic levels where applicable The attribution of a specimen to a particular factory is either supported thereby or in some cases a potential reassessment of an earlier attribution is indicated Overall the information provided by analytical chemical data is seen to be extremely useful for porcelain identification and for its potential attribution in the context of a holistic forensic evaluation of hitherto unknown porcelain exemplars of questionable factory origins A Forger's Tale ,2015 Global Dilemmas Malcolm Hardman, 2017-10-06 No more than there can be time without space can there be history without locality This book takes a road less traveled into a locality that provides fresh insights into our global dilemmas Bolton le Moors was a global center of cotton coal and engineering whose factory engines were the beating heart of the Victorian world Commanding the widest range of trades of any town in the Empire it specialized in papermaking from pawn tickets to banknotes via newspapers and syndicated fiction Responsive to locality yet world aware its many independent writers shared a creative forum with authors like Wordsworth Tennyson Ruskin Gaskell Charlotte Bront Tolstoy Whitman Thomas Hardy T S Eliot Virginia Woolf Other locals include mathematician Thomas Kirkman father of design theory Thomas Moran painter of the American New West Charles Holden the Empire's leading Modern architect Bolton's printed culture was founded on traditions that made it a bulwark of parliamentary puritanism in the days of Reformation and Civil War These traditions increasingly confronted global dilemmas that the town s own inventiveness and entrepreneurship had helped create yet its high moorlands also provided a breathing space to generate imaginative spiritual political and practical remedies Global Dilemmas completes the account of Bolton writing initiated in A Kingdom in Two Parishes and continued in Classic Soil an arc of discourse from Thomas Lever 1521 77 whose social experiments provided the model for the Protestant colonization of the New World to his kinsman W H Lever Lord Leverhulme sincere Christian world capitalist progressive social thinker and pursuing the logic of profit exploiter of Conrad s African heart of darkness Corrupt Cultures: Cheating In Science And Society Roy Yorke Calne, 2021-10-04 This book is concerned with cheating in Science and the harm that it does concentrating on three disasters in cell culture which caused international concern and personal tragedy for the perpetrators. There is an overview of plant animal and human cheating providing a background to the focus on Science This demands a special form of truth in that claims need to be substantiated by repetition in independent laboratories to confirm that the claims work The nature of originality is examined in art and Science An attempt has been made to determine the background and motives for cheating in Science in the certain knowledge that it will be unmasked leading to scandal Advice is given to the young Scientist and suggestions have been made as to how fraud in Science could be reduced by more regulated supervision. There is a need to revise the regulations and assessment of claims of originality and the whole review process of journals to avoid publishing fake data This text is unusual in focusing on three well documented cases The data should not have been published in high impact journals if more rigorous review had been made Journals should require independent repetition of claims that seem to be too good to be true This little book should be of considerable interest to young scientists historians of science and editors
