Re-Inventing the Postcolonial (in the) Metropolis Cecile Sandten, Annika Bauer, 2016-09-27 The notion of the postcolonial metropolis has gained prominence in the last two decades both within and beyond postcolonial studies Disciplines such as sociology and urban studies however have tended to focus on the economic inequalities class disparities and other structural and formative aspects of the postcolonial metropolises that are specific to Western conceptions of the city at large It is only recently that the depiction of postcolonial metropolises has been addressed in the writings of Suketu Mehta Chris Abani Amit Chaudhuri Salman Rushdie Aravind Adiga Helon Habila Sefi Atta and Zakes Mda among others Most of these works probe the urban specifics and physical and cultural topographies of postcolonial cities while highlighting their agential capacity to defy appropriate and abrogate the superimposition of theories of Western modernity and urbanism These ASNEL Papers are all concerned with the idea of the postcolonial in the metropolis from various disciplinary viewpoints as drawn from a great range of cityscapes spread out over five continents The essays explore on the one hand ideas of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation and on the other the possibility of transforming reinventing and reconfiguring the postcolonial condition in and through literary texts and visual narratives In this context the volume covers a broad spectrum of theoretical and thematic approaches to postcolonial and metropolitan topographies and their depictions in writings from Australia and New Zealand South Africa South Asia and greater Asia as well as the UK addressing issues such as modernity and market economies but also caste class and social and linguistic aspects At the same time they reflect on the postcolonial metropolis and postcolonialism in the metropolis by concentrating on an urban imaginary which turns on notions of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation as the continuing postcolonial condition

Representing Minorities Soumia Boutkhil, Larbi Touaf, 2009-01-14 The papers in this volume include not only the traditional view of what constitutes a minority but also any individual or group recalcitrant and reluctant not to say resistant to the generalized lobotomy operated by the rampant uniformisation of cultures around the world For in the ruins of the end of history and its context of violence and Manichean politics any opposition to the general consensus could be dismissed as anti historical and atavistic The objective of the book is precisely to counter such rhetoric and underscore the necessity of cultural diversity and the right to difference This book contains what can amount to a critical response to the current context of confusion surrounding the postmodern condition that arguably dominates most societies It stresses the issue of ethics not only in world politics but also in literature and criticism which are the main focus here In fact the interest in minority issues is in itself an ethical concern that contributes to give substance to the idea that postmodernity opens the gates for the long suppressed identities and sensibilities to emerge and demand recognition This volume intends therefore to contribute to the recent ethical turn that seems to take place in scholarship worldwide Operated mainly by what is referred to as postcolonial studies this shift turned literary criticism and cultural studies into the site where a sense of literature can be envisioned that is not at all universalist or reflecting the hegemonic temptations of the new world order It seeks to present a patchwork of minor literatures in the sense that besides the major literatures languages there are myriads of minor voices that express dissimilarity oftentimes under the umbrella of those major languages and literatures themselves

Feminism and Modernity in Anglophone African Women's Writing Dobrota Pucherová, 2022-07-29 This book re reads the last 60 years of Anglophone African women s writing from a transnational and trans historical feminist perspective rather than postcolonial from which these texts have been traditionally interpreted Such a comparative frame throws into relief patterns across time and space that make it possible to situate this writing as an integral part of women s literary history Revisiting this literature in a comparative context with Western women writers since the 18th century the author highlights how invocations of tradition have been used by patriarchy everywhere to subjugate women the similarities between women s struggles worldwide and the feminist imagination it produced The author argues that in the 21st century African feminism has undergone a major epistemic shift from a culturally exclusive to a relational feminism that conceptualizes African femininity through the risky opening of oneself to otherness transculturation and translation Like Western feminists in the 1960s contemporary African women writers are turning their attention to the female body as the prime site of women's oppression and freedom reframing feminism as a demand for universal human rights and actively shaping global discourses on gender modernity and democracy The book will be of interest to students and researchers of African literature but also feminist literary scholars and comparatists more generally

Gendered Violence and Human Rights in Black World Literature and Film Naomi Nkealah, Obioma Nnaemeka, 2021-03-29 This book investigates how the intersection between gendered violence and human rights is depicted and engaged with in African literature and films The rich and multifarious range of film and literature emanating from Africa and the diaspora provides a fascinating lens through which we can understand the complex consequences of gendered violence on the lives of women children and minorities Contributors to this volume examine the many ways in which gendered violence mirrors expresses projects and articulates the larger phenomenon of human rights violations in Africa and the African diaspora and how in turn the discourse of human rights informs the ways in which we articulate interrogate conceptualise and interpret gendered violence in literature and film The book also shines a light on the linguistic contradictions and ambiguities in the articulation of gendered violence in private spaces and war This book will be essential reading for scholars critics feminists teachers and students seeking solid grounding in exploring gendered violence and human rights in theory and practice

The Optimist Creed Christian D. Larson, 2012-05-24 The first ever collection of writings by Christian D Larson author of the famous Optimist Creed and one of the twentieth century's pioneers of motivational thought Contemporary research has shown that optimistic people experience longer and healthier lives better relationships and higher incomes Generations before such findings however inspirational writer Christian D Larson showed an amazing grasp of the life changing power of gratitude and optimism Today Larson is known worldwide for his powerful meditation The Optimist Creed and other classics of spiritual living But no single volume has collected his greatest writings

Here at last is a long overdue anthology that makes Larson's foundational writings available to the countless readers who already know his name and work. Like no one else of his day, Larson understood the metaphysical and psychological dimensions of grateful living or, as he famously put it, an attitude of gratitude. Affirmative thought, Larson reasoned, sets in motion unseen forces both spiritual and psychical and aids in manifesting our desires. The Optimist Creed features complete editions of Larson's most deeply affecting works, each redesigned and reset. It contains The Pathway of Roses, Your Forces and How to Use Them, the work that features his original Optimist Creed, Mastery of Self, The Ideal Made Real, and Just Be Glad. Life's Secret, the Gift Dale C. Leo, 2011-10-27. The true nature of your being is the Gift from within your good soul, your good spirit connecting with your good thoughts. You will find that with this connection, it will deny you nothing and give you everything. When the Gift within you that rests at the center of your being and connects with the Light from the Infinite Power of the universe, little else matters. When you discover to know of the true power that lies within, nothing is impossible. When the Gift of Light, your spirit and soul connects with the Light of the Universe, you will hear to believe there are no limits. There is no obstacle too strong for you to overcome, no disease your thought cannot delete, no situation that cannot be changed, no connecting relationship that cannot be found, no desire that cannot be made to manifest and come true. Know that the connecting powers are within you. All things are possible when you see with the inner vision. Wisdom is shared in the voice of vision. The belief of knowing all is true awaits the eyes that see. It teaches that while physically being bound to earth, there is within us a spiritual power, a power of self, though which we are one connecting with the universe. It teaches to have focus, listen to the mind, and we will find our happiness. Making a connection, the vision will come with the narration sharing the wisdom to perfection. Every person on our earth has the gift. Combined with knowledge and understanding, the Whispered Words of Wisdom will lead you to more wisdom, and you will then see what you could not see before. From our Ancient Past, certain words in phrases were written in code; we say and use these phrases without knowing the true meaning behind them. You will find out. When you open up your gift, it came to you just out of the blue. You were walking tall with your head up in the sky. You said it's right on the money. Remember what comes to you in the Whispering Words of Wisdom; you will hear the answers. It is then to recognize the opportunities that become present. The Pathway of Roses Christian D.
