Case Scenarios for Teaching and Learning Social Work Practice Shirley M. Haulotte, Jane A. Kretzschmar, 2001 Suitable for practice courses at the BSW or MSW levels the 40 carefully crafted vignettes in this collection are drawn from actual cases and combine practitioner expertise rigorous scholarship and current social work knowledge A wide range of settings client systems and problems are presented as are suggestions for assessing the information provided and formulating an intervention plan The first three units are organized chronologically proceeding from beginning to middle and ending phases of practice with clients Unit four includes cases focusing on special issues exceptions to the rule in social work practice such as conflicting values and ethics working with diverse populations and working with involuntary clients Readers interested in focusing on particular groups and kinds of issues will also find a helpful index of cases organized by issue and client population

Decision Cases for Advanced Social Work Practice Terry A. Wolfer, Lori D Franklin, Karen A Gray, 2013-11-19 These fifteen cases take place in child welfare mental health hospital hospice domestic violence refugee resettlement veterans administration and school settings and reflect individual family group and supervised social work practice They confront common ethical and treatment issues and raise issues regarding practice interventions programs policies and laws Cases represent open ended situations encouraging students to apply knowledge from across the social work curriculum to develop problem solving and critical thinking skills An instructor's manual with teaching notes is available by emailing coursematerials@columbiauniversitypress.com

Dilemmas in Social Work Field Education Terry A. Wolfer, Melissa Reitmeier, 2021-07-20 Field education is social work's signature pedagogy the essential preparation for professional practice Its success depends on field educators field instructors task supervisors or preceptors and faculty field liaisons to guide and assess student learning and maintain the pedagogical integrity of the field experience Despite its importance and complexity few resources exist for orienting and preparing field educators This anthology presents decision cases that depict the actual experiences of social work field educators and students They showcase the complex dynamics of field education and highlight a range of dilemmas experienced by novice and seasoned field educators In various combinations the dilemmas include interpersonal boundaries emotional reactivity initiative expectations role confusion inadequate performance accountability interpersonal conflict personal values and impairment The cases show how other field educators have navigated the issues that typically arise with greater or lesser success The cases portray the intricacy and rewards of this educational role and are selected for their ability to facilitate in depth discussion among field educators during their initial training or continuing education Guided discussions of these cases can bolster supervisory competence and confidence They enable field educators to develop important problem solving and critical thinking skills related to their overlapping roles as instructors supervisors mentors advisors colleagues and role models helping them thrive and continue to serve the profession An accompanying instructor manual provides extensive information for each decision case and also includes guidance for field directors on how to use the case method of teaching and sources for additional information Case Studies in Social Work Practice Craig W. LeCroy, 2014-01-14 A practical approach to understanding social work concepts in action that integrates theory and practice In this updated edition of the classic social work text students and instructors have access to real world demonstrations of how social work theories and concepts can be applied in practice The case studies in this book bridge the gap between the classroom and the field by allowing students to discover the when why and how of social work principles Brief but comprehensive topic overviews are brought to life by case studies that apply general theories to the work of social work Each of the book's nine sections cover an essential area of social work encompassing the micro mezzo and macro levels Highly readable explanations are followed by 3-5 case studies relating theory to the living practice of real social workers Topics include Generalist Practice Family Therapy Treatment of Adults and Diversity Approaching each topic from a variety of different theoretical bases this essential text allow students to learn by concrete example experiencing social work concepts as they are applied in the profession today Case Studies on Sexual Orientation and Gender Expression in Social Work Practice Lori Messinger, Deana F. Morrow, 2006 This casebook focuses on sexual orientation and gender expression in relation to social work practice An excellent resource it offers 29 cases illustrating the variety of issues facing gay lesbian bisexual and transgender GLBT people and communities in five practice settings individuals couples and families communities and organizations groups and policy and research The book also contains discussion questions classroom exercises and suggested readings for each case so educators can easily integrate GLBT content into the classroom Case Studies on Sexual Orientation and Gender Expression in Social Work Practice may be used on its own in conjunction with another textbook or as a complement to Deana F Morrow and Lori Messinger's Sexual Orientation and Gender Expression in Social Work Practice Working with Gay Lesbian Bisexual and Transgender People Columbia 2006 Messinger and Morrow are award winning teachers and their groundbreaking book is key for culturally competent undergraduate or graduate courses in practice policy human behavior and the social environment research and field education Dying, Death, and Bereavement in Social Work Practice Terry A. Wolfer, Vicki M. Runnion, 2008-07-03 Practitioners who work with clients at the end of their lives face difficult decisions concerning the client's self determination the kind of death he or she will have and the prolongation of life They must also remain sensitive to the beliefs and needs of family members and the legal ethical and spiritual ramifications of the client's death Featuring twenty three decision cases based on interviews with professional social workers this unique volume allows students to wrestle with the often incomplete and conflicting information ethical issues and time constraints of actual cases Instead of offering easy solutions this book provides detailed accounts that provoke stimulating debates among students enabling them to confront their own responses beliefs and uncertainties to hone their critical thinking and decision making skills for professional practice Please note Teaching Notes for this volume will be available from Electronic Hallway in Spring 2010 To access the Teaching Notes you must first become a member of the series which is based on common learning principles Effective Learning and Teaching in Social Policy and Social Work Hilary Burgess, Imogen Taylor, 2004-11-10 Written to meet the needs of teachers lecturers and tutors working at different levels and in many situations this is an authoritative guide to understanding the key issues best practice and new developments in social work and social policy Challenges, Opportunities and Innovations in Social Work Field

Education Ronnie Egan, Nicole Hill, Wendy Rollins, 2020-11-12 This book collates and analyses the current research debates opportunities and practices in social work field education into one volume and contextualises this material within the broader context of social work Current concerns about risk and uncertainty in field education are explored from multiple stakeholder perspectives Social work field education is an integral component of social work education yet its sustainability is increasingly challenged Issue such as finding enough quality placements with accredited social workers curriculum development student diversity and placement assessment of learning are being examined by researchers and practitioners alike This represents a challenge for the social work profession generally By drawing on traditional and alternative pedagogical perspectives on field education and constructions of risk and uncertainty evident in current discourse the book presents innovative responses to existing challenges Providing a reference point for future knowledge building in sustainable field education pedagogy and practice this book will interest university field education programs and industry field educators internationally Effective Practice Learning in Social Work Jonathan Parker, 2010-06-01 The Department of Health requires students on the social work degree to undertake at least 200 days in direct practice learning during their course Practice learning often raises great anxieties for students agencies and those who supervise and assess it This book tackles those anxieties explaining the ways the experience can deliver a unique learning opportunity for the student It is ideal for students undertaking or about to undertake practice learning student supervisors and practice assessors as well as trainers and policymakers within social care agencies and healthcare professions where practice learning is also undertaken

Practice Education in Social Work Janet Walker, Karin Crawford, Jonathan Parker, 2008-07-02 Written specifically for practice educators this book examines contemporary theories and knowledge in practice learning teaching and education with a clear emphasis on developing the skills and practice of the individual Another key focus of the book is to help readers to reflect on the implications of this for their role as practice educators giving them the time and space to make proactive and informed choices The book is structured around the new Post Qualifying Standards for Practice Education making it an invaluable and thoroughly comprehensive guide Trauma-Informed Care in Social Work Education Lea Tufford, Arielle Dylan, 2025-03-28 Structured and informed by social justice orientations this essential volume explores how trauma informed care can be integrated in all aspects of social work education This handbook incorporates a critical and ecologically focused lens with an emphasis on resilience healing and strengths based approaches With contributions from over 60 experts in the field of social work education psychology and counselling this comprehensive book provides current understandings of how trauma manifests in the lived experience of social work students The book begins by introducing why trauma informed care is needed in social work and addresses the reality of historical trauma Each chapter views the social work student at the center of the educational journey and considers how trauma can shape experiences in various settings such as the classroom curriculum field educational policy and community involvement and support services Chapters cover topics such as the neuroscience of trauma poverty disability racism experiential approaches online course delivery climate change mindfulness student mental wellbeing and more This handbook is a must read for social work educators and field instructors who seek to prevent and lessen trauma in their social work pedagogy It is also beneficial for undergraduate and graduate courses such as child and youth care addiction services and foundations of social work

The Routledge Handbook of Green Social

Work Lena Dominelli, 2018-03-28 Green social work espouses a holistic approach to all peoples and other living things plants and animals and the physical ecosystem emphasises the relational nature of all its constituent parts and redefines the duty to care for and about others as one that includes the duty to care for and about planet earth By acknowledging the interdependency of all living things it allows for the inclusion of all systems and institutions in its remit including both human made and natural disasters arising from the human made ones of poverty to chemical pollution of the earth's land waters and soils and climate change to the natural hazards like earthquakes and volcanoes which turn to disasters through human action Green social work's value system is also one that favours equality social inclusion the equitable distribution of resources and a rights based approach to meeting people's needs to live in an ethical and sustainable manner Responding to these issues is one of the biggest challenges facing social workers in the twenty first century which this Handbook is intended to address Through providing the theories practices policies knowledge and skills required to act responsibly in responding to the diverse disasters that threaten to endanger all living things and planet earth itself this green social work handbook will be required reading for all social work students academics and professionals as well as those working in the fields of community development and disaster management

Journal of Education for Social Work ,2009

Teaching Social Work Rick Csiernik, Susan Hillock, 2020-12-07 Social work education has the potential to be transformative consciousness raising and to produce social change while inspiring hope in students for the creation of more just systems An understanding of oppression its diverse manifestations and its differential impact on vulnerable individuals and groups is essential to contemporary social work education What then is the best manner in which to prepare educators for the immensely important complex and multidimensional role as teacher of social work Most social work instructors learn to teach through trial and error bringing their own style experiences and preferences to the endeavour rather than having a formal program of education and instruction on how to best educate and instruct This book addresses the complex and uncertain field of social work education gathering together thirty experienced professors and practitioners who teach in BSW MSW and PhD programs Together the contributors create a framework for social work educators to reflect on how they teach why they teach in specific ways and what works best for teaching in the discipline of social work Radical Challenges for Social Work Education Jane Fenton, 2022-04-19 This book is full of ideas about how social work education can confront the individualising and often blaming form of social work that neoliberalism ushered in four decades ago Radical social work is an approach to social work that has at its heart the departure from solely behavioural moral or psychological understanding of service users problems Social work had originally been concerned with the moral character of people in trouble usually poor people making a clear division between those who were deserving of help and those who were undeserving The rise of science and the psy disciplines then led to psychological explanations for the difficulties people found themselves in Both explanations for social problems moral and psychological with their narrow focus on the individual have been enjoying a renaissance in recent times with the neoliberal self sufficiency narrative moral and the more recent focus on trauma psychological Radical social work challenges those explanations concerned as it is with the circumstances a person might find themselves in poverty poor housing poor education high crime rates and lack of opportunities of all kinds This book is a step towards resurrecting radical social work principles and it urges us to think about how social work education can be reshaped to that end Radical Challenges for Social Work Education is a significant new contribution to social work practice and theory and will be a great resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Politics Education Social Work Sociology Public Policy Development Studies Anthropology and Human Geography The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Social Work Education Teaching in Social Work Jeane W. Anastas, 2010-04-22 Drawing from her extensive classroom and field experience Jeane W Anastas merges the practice wisdom of today s social work educators with contemporary theories on instruction and learning Built around a teacher and student in situation framework Teaching in Social Work examines the effect of social issues professional norms and needs and various educational settings on the interactions among educators students and the subjects they learn The result is a singular volume that focuses specifically on teaching within the field of social work identifying the factors that result in effective educational outcomes Anastas draws on the theories and selected research findings of higher education and social work education literature She illuminates the critical aspects of teaching and learning as an adult the best uses of different modalities of instruction and the issues of diversity that influence all aspects of teaching and learning Her book includes guest authored chapters on field learning and the latest advances in teaching technology It also engages with ethics teaching and learning assessments and faculty work in full time social work education Social Work Education Bibliography , 1983
