Counseling and Community Rod Wilson, 2003-04 Traditionally counseling has focused primarily on the individual overlooking the interaction between the community and the individual Wilson has created a biblically based counseling model that anchors the individual within the community The result is a perspective that encompasses all aspects of a person's life where the community becomes a helper in the counseling process The thesis of this book is tied to the assumption that we need a counseling approach that is community oriented rather than exclusively focused on the individual When this is the case we will be able to appreciate the biblical emphasis on the people of God While he prizes a relationship with individuals God's heart is with a body a fellowship a community Both pastors and private counselors need to reaffirm the priority of community and its power in the healing process Rod Wilson PhD York University is President and Professor of Counselling and Psychology at Regent College in Vancouver B C Canada He is also the author of Exploring Your Anger and Helping Angry People
