People's Republic of China's Counterspace Program and the Implications for U.S. National Security United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services. Strategic Forces Subcommittee, United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services. Subcommittee on Seapower and Projection Forces, 2014 Power, State and Space Marco Aliberti, Ottorino Cappelli, Rodrigo Praino, 2023-07-18 This book explains on what basis a nation can claim the status of space power what are the criteria differentiating a space power from lesser space actors and how their spacepower can be empirically measured and assessed To this end it sets forth a comprehensive multidisciplinary framework to enable a dynamic comparison of space actors and of the pathways that lead them in and out of the space powers club Drawing upon a critical review of the existing literature it conceptualises spacepower as a form of state power based on the complex interplay between the two defining dimensions of stateness namely the well studied dimension of capacity and the often neglected yet exceedingly important dimension of autonomy The book demonstrates that only actors possessing high levels of both autonomy and capacity qualify as space powers Different levels of either capacity or autonomy produce other types of space actors including skilled spacefarers self reliant spacefarers primed spacefarers and emerging space actors This innovative conceptual framework is complemented by an in depth comparative assessment that collects and processes a large amount of hard to find data on the most active global space actors and aggregates multiple indicators into a compound non hierarchical index of space power visualised in the form of a matrix The Oxford Handbook of Space Security P.J. Blount, 2023-09-01 Space security is a complex assemblage of societal risks and benefits that result from space based capabilities and is currently in a period of transformation as innovative processes are rapidly changing the underlying assumptions about stability in the space domain New space based technologies are emerging at an accelerating rate and both established and emerging states are actively and openly pursuing weapons to negate other states space capabilities Many states have set up dedicated military space units in order to preemptively counter such threats In addition a number of major private companies with a transnational presence are also investing heavily in extraterrestrially based technology The Oxford Handbook of Space Security focuses on the interaction between space technology and international and national security processes from an international relations IR theory perspective Saadia M Pekkanen and P J Blount have gathered a group of key scholars who bring a range of analytical and theoretical IR perspectives to assessing space security The volume theorizes the development and governance of space security and analyzes the specific pressure points currently challenging that regime Further it builds an analytically eclectic understanding of space security infused with the theory and practice of IR and advances analysis of key states and regions as well as specific capabilities Space security is currently in a period of great transition as new technologies are emerging and states openly pursue counterspace capabilities Bringing together scholarship from a group of leading experts this volume explains how these contemporary changes will affect future security in from and through space Applying lessons from international relations theory and practice and drawing from a range of social science subfields the Handbook is a definitive work for scholars who study the topic of space security      National Electrical Code National Fire Protection Association,2007 Presents the latest electrical regulation code that is applicable for electrical wiring and equipment installation for all buildings covering emergency situations owner liability and procedures for ensuring public and workplace safety      Julia Alvarez Kelli Lyon Johnson,2005 This book provides the first book length examination of the writings of Julia Alvarez the author of How the Garcia Girls Lost Their Accents and nearly a dozen other books of fiction and non fiction and one of today s most widely read Latina writers Kelli Lyon Johnson perceptively illuminates the themes ideals and passions that unite these diverse and rich works all of which explore issues of understanding and representing identity within a global society Forced by political oppression to leave the Dominican Republic when still young Alvarez has lived most of her adult life in the United States Johnson argues that through her narratives poetry and essays Alvarez has sought to create a cartography of identity in exile Alvarez inscribes a geography of identity in her work that joins theory and narrative across multiple genres to create a new map of identity and culture By asserting that she is mapping a country that s not on the map Alvarez places creativity and multiplicity at the center of this emerging cartography of identity Rather than elaborating a hybrid identity that surreptitiously erases distinctions and difference Alvarez embraces the mestizaje or mixture and accumulation of identities experience and diversity To Alvarez linguistic and cultural multiplicity represents the reality of what it means to be American and she offers a compelling vision of both self and community in which the homeland Alvarez seeks is the narrative space of her own writings As Johnson shows Alvarez will continue to shape American literature by stretching the literary cartography of identity and of the Americas      Designing Commercial Interiors Christine M. Piotrowski,Elizabeth A. Rogers, IIDA,2010-01-26 The definitive reference on designing commercial interiors expanded and updated for today s facilities Following the success of the ASID Polsky Prize Honorable Mention in 1999 authors Christine Piotrowski and Elizabeth Rogers have extensively revised this guide to planning and designing commercial interiors to help professionals and design students successfully address today s trends and project requirements This comprehensive reference covers the practical and aesthetic issues that distinguish commercial interiors There is new information on sustainable design security and accessibility three areas of increased emphasis in modern interiors An introductory chapter provides an overview of commercial interior design and the challenges and rewards of working in the field and stresses the importance of understanding the basic purpose and functions of the client s business as a prerequisite to designing interiors This guide also gives the reader a head start with eight self contained chapters that provide comprehensive coverage of interior design for specific types of commercial facilities ranging from offices to food and beverage facilities and from retail stores to health care facilities Each chapter is complete with a historical overview types of facilities planning and interior design elements design applications a summary references and Web sites New design applications covered include spas in hotels bed and breakfast inns coffee shops gift stores and salons courthouses and courtrooms and golf clubhouses In keeping with the times there are new chapters focusing on senior living facilities and on restoration and adaptive use A chapter on project management has been revised and includes everything from proposals and contracts to scheduling and documentation Throughout the book design application discussions illustrations and photographs help both professionals and students solve problems and envision and implement distinctive designs for commercial interiors With information on licensing codes and regulations along with more than 150 photographs and illustrations this combined resource and instant reference is a must have for commercial interior design professionals students and those studying for the NCIDQ licensing exam Companion Web site www.wiley.com/go/commercialinteriors Air & Space Power Journal sum 04 , Schools as Queer Transformative Spaces Jón Ingvar Kjaran, Helen Sauntson, 2019-10-08 This book explores the narratives and experiences of LGBTQ and gender non conforming students around the world Much previous research has focused on homophobic transphobic bullying and the negative consequences of expressing non heterosexual and non gender conforming identities in school environments To date less attention has been paid to what may help LGBTQ students to experience school more positively and relatively little has been done to compare research across the global contexts This book addresses these research gaps by bringing together ongoing research from countries including Brazil China South Africa the UK and many more Each chapter examines results of empirical research into school experiences of LGBTQ students and the experiences and perspectives of teachers and parents All contributions are theoretically informed by aspects of queer theory and or critical feminist theory with additional insights from psychological sociological and linguistic perspectives Contributing chapters consider how educational workers may question socially sanctioned concepts of normality in relation to gender and sexuality in ways that benefit all students and how they can queer schools to make them less oppressive in terms of gender and sexuality Expertly written and researched this book is an invaluable resource for researchers policymakers and students in the fields of education sociology gender studies and anyone with an interest in gender and sexuality studies Subsumption of Space Fujio Mizuoka, 2024-12-21 This book takes a Marxist perspective to explore the dynamics of space By employing dialectical materialist logic it explains how a heterogeneous spatial configuration emerges through the dialectical process to transcend the contradiction generated by the subsumption incorporation of an sich pristine spaces into society with a particular focus on the context of capitalism The key concept here is subsumption as presented by Marx in The Results of the Immediate Process of Production This book is first of its kind that thought provokingly demonstrates the dialectical logic of the production of space through the application of Marxist logic of subsumption It succinctly argues that heterogeneous spatial configurations are produced through the society s effort to transcend these contradictions or the subsumption of space which transforms pristine space subsumed into a one point society in formal terms toward a heterogeneous spatial configuration resulting in an und f r sich produced space or space subsumed in real terms The book also suggests the role of the produced space in potential utilization of space in social struggles Based on this conceptual framework this book discusses the built environment the space embedded in people s minds and the effects of the capitalist business cycle on space Ultimately it presents a compelling case for activists to harness the space produced in their social struggles NFPA 70: National Electrical Code, 2008 Edition ,2007
