Electra Vs Oedipus The Drama Of The Mother Daughter Relationship:

Electra vs Oedipus Hendrika C. Freud, 2010-07-21 Electra vs Oedipus explores the deeply complex and often turbulent relationship between mothers and daughters In contrast to Sigmund Freud's conviction that the father is the central figure the book puts forward the notion that women are in fact far more pre occupied with their mother Drawing on the author's extensive clinical experience the book provides numerous case studies which shed light on women's emotional development Topics include love and hate between mothers and daughters the history of maternal love childbirth and depression rejected mothers Electra vs Oedipus will be a valuable resource for psychoanalysts psychotherapists and all those with an interest in the dynamics of the mother daughter relationship

'Heimat' Friederike Eigler, Jens Kugele, 2012-10-01 The concept of Heimat with its seemingly pre or anti modern connotations of rootedness in a place of origin is central to a critical understanding of German history and culture Over the course of the past fifteen years scholars across a range of disciplines have found new ways to examine the changing notions of Heimat its multifaceted cultural literary and visual history its gendered connotations and its national and ideological appropriations This anthology is the first to examine cultural manifestations of Heimat by giving special consideration to issues of memory and space The contributions to this volume challenge static notions of place often associated with Heimat Instead they explore the social and cultural production of places of belonging as they emerge in literary and visual narratives ranging from 1800 to 2000 and beyond Although the anthology includes historical perspectives on Heimat its overall objective is not to trace its cultural or literary history but to place this complex term into new conceptual contexts Drawing attention to manifestations of Heimat within German literary and cultural studies provides a rich ground for exploring the transformation of locality in trans national contexts

The Letters of Sigmund Freud to Jeanne Lampl-de Groot, 1921-1939 Gertie Bögels, 2022-08-24 Freud wrote 76 letters to the Dutch psychoanalyst Jeanne Lampl de Groot between 1921 and 1939 These letters are personable lively and compassionate and convey his respect and caring for Jeanne who was his patient pupil and eventually his esteemed professional colleague The letters are sociohistorical documents that contain Freud's thoughts about pertinent issues in psychoanalysis and the interwar sociopolitical situation in Vienna and Germany Jeanne Lampl de Groot was an internationally known psychoanalyst who published extensively on psychoanalytic theory and practice She regularly wrote long letters to Freud when residing outside of Vienna seeking his advice on personal and professional matters and discussing with him her evolving ideas about psychoanalysis including her disagreement with Freud about female sexual development It is unfortunate that Jeanne had her letters to Freud destroyed because it sometimes makes Freud's somewhat elliptical responses difficult to place in context For example it is quite probable that she wrote detailed descriptions of her husband's emotional issues which Freud then merely alluded to Because we don't know the specifics of what she wrote his responses remain ambiguous and therefore problematic to translate Nonetheless Freud's responses do reveal a great deal about Jeanne and her passion for psychoanalysis The book also includes several of her letters to her parents which allows the reader to get to know Jeanne's intelligent thoughtful voice her thoughts about the evolving science of psychoanalysis her experience during her psychoanalysis with Freud and her concerns about the rise of anti-Semitism in Austria and Germany This book introduces to its readers a very personable Freud and provides insight into his thoughts about the development of critical psychoanalytic concepts such as the death drive masochism lay analysis and his changing views on the length of a psychoanalysis We also hear about historical events in the 1920s and 1930s as we witness Freud and Lampl de Groot move through their personal and professional lives with dignity and perseverance

The Maternal Lineage Paola Mariotti, 2012-09-10 Why do women want to have children How does one learn to be a mother Does having babies have anything to do with sex At a time when mothers are bombarded by prescriptive and contradicting advice on how to behave with their children The Maternal Lineage highlights various psychological aspects of the mothering experience International contributors provide clinical examples of frequent and challenging situations that have received scarce attention in psychoanalysis such as issues of neglect and psychical abuse The transgenerational repetition from mother to daughter of distressing mothering patterns is evident throughout the book and may seem inevitable However clinical examples and theoretical research indicate that when the support of partner and friends is not enough the cycle can be brought to an end if the mother receives psychoanalytic informed professional help The Maternal Lineage is divided into four parts An Introduction including a review of the literature focusing on the mother daughter relationship Pregnancy and very early issues Subfertility and its effects on a woman's psyche The psychological aspects of major mothering problems miscarriages postnatal depression adolescent motherhood This timely book will be of value to psychoanalysts psychotherapists and health professionals obstetricians psychiatrists midwives and social workers

Men and Mothers Hendrika C. Freud, 2018-03-08 Not all men vie with their fathers for the love of their mothers In some families the mother becomes the central figure for her son the father is excluded or excludes himself and does not come between mother and son The main thesis of this book using clinical vignettes and quotes from the work of Marcel Proust to illustrate the author's points is that in these cases fantasies of matricide replace patricide Men develop their male gender identity by being permitted to separate from their mother early on but when a man does not resolve his infantile tie to his mother he risks remaining in a passive and or dependent position towards her Over identification with the mother might ensue hampering masculine development Mothers who seek emotional support by binding their sons too closely can become seductive towards them The child is inclined to try to satisfy the emotional needs of his mother and he fears rejection if he asserts his independence instead of complying

Post-feminist Impasses in Popular Heroine Television Alison Horbury, 2015-07-28 Alison Horbury investigates the reprisal of the myth of Persephone a mother daughter plot of separation and initiation in post feminist television cultures where she argues it functions as a symptom expressing a complex around the question of sexual difference what Lacan calls sexuation where this question has been otherwise foreclosed
