Modeling Mentoring Across Race/Ethnicity and Gender

Caroline Sotello Viernes Turner,Juan Carlos González,2023-07-03 While mentorship has been shown to be critical in helping graduate students persist and complete their studies and enter upon and succeed in their academic careers the under representation of faculty of color and women in higher education greatly reduces the opportunities for graduate students from these selfsame groups to find mentors of their race ethnicity or gender Recognizing that mentoring across gender race and ethnicity inserts levels of complexity to this important process this book both fills a major gap in the literature and provides an in depth look at successful mentorships between senior white and under represented scholars and emerging women scholars and scholars of color Following a comprehensive review of the literature this book presents chapters written by scholars who share in depth descriptions of their cross gender and or cross race ethnicity mentoring relationships Each article is co authored by mentors who are established senior scholars and their former prot g s with whom they have continuing collegial relationships Their descriptions provide rich insights into the importance of these relationships and for developing the academic pipeline for women scholars and scholars of color Drawing on a comparative analysis of the literature and of the narrative chapters the editors conclude by identifying the key characteristics and pathways for developing successful mentoring relationships across race ethnicity or gender and by offering recommendations for institutional policy and individual mentoring practice For administrators and faculty concerned about diversity in graduate programs and academic departments they offer clear models of how to nurture the productive scholars and teachers needed for tomorrow s demographic of students for under represented students they offer compelling narratives about the rewards and challenges of good mentorship to inform their expectations and the relationships they will develop as prot g s Youth Leaving Foster Care Wendy B. Smith,2011-03-08 Each year more than 25 000 youth age out of the American foster care system to face uncertain futures as young adults Many of them have experienced the trauma of abuse neglect disrupted family relationships and multiple foster care placements The past two decades have seen increased funding and services in a society wide attempt to mitigate the effects of such childhood adversity but a consistent pattern of loss and broken attachments adds up Development and education are severely compromised A quarter of youth experience homelessness after exiting care 25 50% will not complete high school and only 3 6% will graduate college Four years after leaving care less than half are employed and their earnings remain well below the poverty line Rates of mental health disorders early pregnancy and parenthood and involvement in the criminal justice system are all heightened Youth Leaving Foster Care is the first comprehensive text to focus on youth emerging from care offering a new theoretical framework to guide programs policies and services The book argues that understanding infant child and adolescent development attachment experiences and disruptions and the impacts of unresolved trauma and loss on development are critical to improving long term outcomes It provides an overview of the foster care context detailed discussion of the effects of maltreatment on development from infancy through young adulthood and common mental health problems and treatment recommendations It includes a discussion of delinquency and the juvenile justice system as well as issues facing pregnant and parenting youth LGBT youth and youth with disabilities Presenting the best practices in transitional living programs and policy and research recommendations this crucial guide also reviews and summarizes the latest research which are enhanced with illustrative case vignettes Each mental health and program chapter concludes with key practice principles reflecting the relationship based approach Presenting a multidimensional integrated perspective that gives greater consideration to psychological and interpersonal needs this vital guide offers an approach that will strengthen the capacity of youth leaving care to transition into successful adult lives Reading Your Life's Story Keith R. Anderson,2016-11-03 Keith R Anderson unfolds a vision for mentoring that invites us to read our own lives as narrative as well as to learn how to enter the narrative of another life These pages cover the scope of the mentoring relationship through various seasons offering helpful and inspiring metaphors for mentoring All are invited to enter the mentoring story International Handbook of Research in Professional and Practice-based Learning Stephen Billett,Christian Harteis,Hans Gruber,2014-07-15 The International Handbook of Research in Professional and Practice based Learning discusses what constitutes professionalism examines the concepts and practices of professional and practice based learning including associated research traditions and educational provisions It also explores professional learning in institutions of higher and vocational education as well the practice settings where professionals work and learn focusing on both initial and ongoing development and how that learning is assessed The Handbook features research from expert contributors in education studies of the professions and accounts of research methodologies from a range of informing disciplines It is organized in two parts The first part sets out conceptions of professionalism at work how professions work and learning can be understood and examines the kinds of institutional practices organized for developing occupational capacities The second part focuses on procedural issues associated with learning for and through professional practice and how assessment of professional capacities might progress The key premise of this Handbook is that during both initial and ongoing professional development individual learning processes are influenced and shaped through their professional environment and practices Moreover in turn the practice and processes of learning through practice are shaped by their development all of which are required to be understood through a range of research orientations methods and findings This Handbook will appeal to academics working in fields of professional practice including those who are concerned about developing these capacities in their students In addition students and research students will also find this Handbook a key reference resource to the field
