Electrical Final Year Project Report

Nesimi Ertugrul

Electrical Final Year Project Report:

LabVIEW for Electric Circuits, Machines, Drives, and Laboratories Nesimi Ertugrul, 2002 Master electric circuits machines devices and power electronics hands on without expensive equipment In LabVIEW for Electric Circuits Machines Drives and Laboratories Dr Nesimi Ertugrul uses custom written LabVIEW Virtual Instruments to illuminate the analysis and operation of a wide range of AC and DC circuits electrical machines and drives including high voltage current power applications covered in no other book Includes detailed background VI panels lab practices hardware information and self study questions everything you need to achieve true mastery Emerging Trends in Power Systems, Vol. 1 , Advanced Automation Techniques In Adaptive Material Processing Xiaoqi Chen, Rajagopalan Devanathan, Aik Meng Fong, 2002-09-06 This volume presents the editors research as well as related recent findings on the applications of modern technologies in electrical and electronic engineering to the automation of some of the common manufacturing processes that have traditionally been handled within the mechanical and material engineering disciplines In particular the book includes the latest research results achieved through applied research and development projects over the past few years at the Gintic Institute of Manufacturing Technology Singapore It discusses advanced automation technologies such as in process sensors laser vision systems and laser strobe vision as well as advanced techniques such as sensory signal processing adaptive process control fuzzy logic neural networks expert systems laser processing control etc The methodologies and techniques are applied to some important material processing applications including grinding polishing machining and welding Practical automation solutions which are complicated by part distortions tool wear process dynamics and variants are explained The research efforts featured in the book are driven by industrial needs They combine theoretical research with practical automation considerations The techniques developed have been either implemented in the factory or prototyped in the laboratory Resources in Vocational Education , 1979 Powering American Farms Richard F. Hirsh, 2022-06-14 Challenging traditional scholarship on the New Deal the book reinterprets the history of rural electrification It tells the previously unacknowledged story of how private power companies with allies in land grant universities engendered social and technical innovations in the 1920s and early 1930s that enabled growing numbers of farmers to obtain electrical service well before the creation of Depression era government programs Resources in Education , 1993 Assistive Technology for the Hearing-impaired, Deaf and Deafblind Marion A. Hersh, Michael A Johnson, 2003-07-24 Affirmative legislative action in many countries now requires that public spaces and services be made accessible to disabled people Although this is often interpreted as access for people with mobility impairments such legislation also covers those who are hearing or vision impaired In these cases it is often the provision of advanced technological devices and aids which enables people with sensory impairments to enjoy the theatre cinema or a public meeting to the full Assistive Technology for the Hearing impaired Deaf and Deafblind shows the student of rehabilitation technology how this growing technical provision can be used to support those with varying reductions in auditory ability and the deafblind in modern society Features instruction in the physiology of the ear together with methods of measurement of hearing levels and loss the principles of electrical engineering used in assistive technology for the hearing impaired description and demonstration of electrical engineering used in hearing aids and other communications enhancement technologies explanation of many devices designed for every day living in terms of generic electrical engineering sections of practical projects and investigations which will give the reader ideas for student work and for self teaching The contributors are internationally recognised experts from the fields of audiology electrical engineering signal processing telephony and assistive technology Their combined expertise makes Assistive Technology for the Hearing impaired Deaf and Deafblind an excellent text for advanced students in assistive and rehabilitation technology and to professional engineers and medics working in assistive technology who wish to maintain an up to date knowledge of current engineering advances

Advances in Cryogenic Engineering Quan-Sheng Shu, Peter Kittel, David Glaister, John Hull, Bill Burt, Al Zeller, John Zbasnik, Vitalij Pecharsky, Steven W. Van Sciver, Ray Radebaugh, Michael DiPirro, J. Patrick Kelley, Klaus D. Timmerhaus, Jay Theilacker, Charles Reece, 2000-10-31 In recent years the technology of cryogenic comminution has been widely applied in the field of chemical engineering food making medicine production and particularly in recycling of waste materials Because of the increasing pollution of waste tires and the shortage of raw rubber resource the recycling process for waste rubber products has become important and commercially viable This technology has shown a great number of advantages such as causing no environmental pollution requiring low energy consumption and producing high quality products Hence the normal crusher which was used to reclaim materials such as waste tires nylon plastic and many polymer materials at atmospheric 12 temperature is being replaced by a cryogenic crusher In the cryogenic crusher the property of the milled material is usually very sensitive to temperature change When a crusher is in operation it will generate a great deal of heat that causes the material temperature increased Once the temperature increases over the vitrification temperature the material property will change and lose the brittle behavior causing the energy consumption to rise sharply Consequently the comminution process cannot be continued Therefore it is believed that the cryogenic crusher is the most critical component in the cryogenic comminution system The research on the temperature increase and energy consumption in the cryogenic crusher is not only to reduce the energy consumption of the crusher but also to reduce the energy consumption of the cryogenic system

Process Tomography M S Beck, Williams, 2012-12-02 Written by international experts in this field the book describes the principles of and presents case studies for the wide range of tomographic imaging techniques that can be used in the process industries It includes sufficient introductory material to this multi disciplinary subject in order that readers from a variety of backgrounds will be able to fully understand the fundamental principles and features of the sensors and image reconstruction techniques needed for process tomography
